IN LOVING MEMORY OF

Anton D. Brokenbrough

Anton Duane Brokenbrough, was born in Fitzgerald Mercy Hospital on January 17, 1982, to Michael Mitchell Sr., and Melissa Brockenbrough. He departed this life on August 19, 2017.

Anton attended Academy Park High School, and from there he went on to graduate from Lincoln Technical Institute with a 4.0 GPA.

Anton, affectionately known as: Antman, Poor Old Lad, and Brother Oct, was a man with a very big personality. Anton loved to eat and had a bottomless stomach.

Anton was a computer wiz, he stayed in trouble in school due to hacking into the school's computer system. His parents constantly received calls from the school because Anton would act as if he was reading his text book with the rest of his classmates but in actuality he was reading his bible and using his text book as a coverup.

Anton had an ardent affection for poetry and playing the guitar. He wrote many poems and lyrics to songs.

At the age of 6, every morning, Anton would go outside early to watch the sunrise so he could behold God's glory. Anton loved to read the Bible and had a great adoration for the prophetic. His favorite scripture was Psalm 91.

Anton was preceded in death by 4 Grandparents: Robert Mitchell, Sr., Octavia Mitchell, John Moore and Beatrice Peoples also 1 Nephew: Marquell Manning.

He leaves to cherish the special moments he brought to his family. Brothers: Shawn Brockenbrough, Michael Mitchell, Jr.; Sisters: Chante Peace and Thyra Brockenbrough; Nieces and Newpews: Kalynn Roundtree, Kamrohn Roundtree, Kamyha Brockenbrough, Aniyah Brockenbrough; Close Friends: Nina Phillips and Francis Powell, and a host of uncles, aunts, cousins, and relatives.

Anton was loved dearly by his family and he will be missed very much.

Lovingly Submitted, The Family

"My Son"

You were an angel to many and a light to all

You brought joy and happiness

To those who'd fall you gave of yourself

And made me smile now you're gone

I miss the times we spent and the laughs we use to share

Though I can't say this to you, I love you, and will always care

You made life worth living and gave me reason to go on

But you're an angel, one long gone

I miss you so much more than words can say

You were taken too soon and you've gone away

But hear my words, listen close

Though you have passed, your memory will remain close

And it will always last
